

Bomb is found at Station X

A homemade bomb made out of plumbing pipe, explosive powder and a cigaret which failed to burn was found on the side steps of the City Communications Bldg., 1430 Martin drive, Eden Park, about 8 a.m. yesterday.

The bomb was found by a custodian on the steps of the building which houses the police and fire department communications stations. The cigaret, which was to act as a wick for the bomb, was only partially burned.

The device was removed by the Fire Department.

Detective Robert Groppe of the Cincinnati Police Department said the bomb was turned over to the crime lab for analysis and the incident was routinely reported to the FBI.
